Mixed Residential Open House

Comment Card

1. Given the requirement for development of a fixed number of residential units on the same site, I would prefer:

Allowing higher density on a smaller portion of the site to allow for larger lots and increased open space on the rest of the site.

Limiting the high end of the high-density portion of the site which could be balanced by smaller lots on the rest of the site.

Providing flexibility for either.

2. In the development of an apartment or condo structure with the same number of units, I would prefer:

3-story building with a larger footprint.

4-story building with a smaller footprint.
